Consider the CO<sub>2</sub> footprint of your gift

Make your choice not only on price and design but also on CO<sub>2</sub> footprint

The Life Cycle Assessment (LCA) of a product, also known as cradle-to-grave assessment, is a method to calculate the environmental impact of a product during its whole life cycle. This means: raw material extraction and production, packaging, transport, use and disposal, as visible in the 5 phases:

1. Raw materials extraction

The data in this phase is a combination of the extraction of the raw materials and the transformation and production of the materials.

2. Packaging

The data in this phase is the packaging used for the item, based on the input of the main packaging materials, this is usually a carton box, sometimes a polybag.

3. Transport

The data in this phase is the result of our default method for transportation (SEA) from the producing country (mainly China) to the warehouse in Europe.

The generated CO<sub>2</sub> data is subject to change based on new information, research and data sets. The tool used to calculate the LCA has a methodology according to ISO 14067 and is verified by Bureau Veritas. The databases used for the LCA calculations are: Base Impact v1.13; EcolInvent; Base Carbone; IEA Report 2017; DEFRA 2019.

Join us in our ambition to reduce CO<sub>2</sub> for a better planet.

4. Energy use

The data in this phase is a combination of the presence of a battery or electronic components and the expected energy use in the average product life span. Products without battery or electronics do not have any emissions in this phase.

5. End-of-Life

The data in this phase is a combination of the end of life treatment of both the product and the packaging. Based on collection, sorting and treatment and possible recyclability.

Global Recycle Standard (GRS)

The Global Recycled Standard (GRS) is a voluntary product standard for tracking and verifying the content of recycled materials in a final product.

The standard applies to the full supply chain and addresses traceability, environmental principles, social requirements, chemical content and labelling.

Our company is certified by Control Union, CU 1162221

GRS recycled plastic sunglasses | P453.961

Recycled Claim Standard (RCS)

The Recycled Claim Standard (RCS) is used as a chain of custody standard to track recycled raw materials through the supply chain.

The GRS/RCS logo ensures the materials used in the product are genuinely recycled.

Difference between standards

The RCS and GRS are the same, except that the GRS is a more rigorous standard; in the GRS, there is a higher minimum content percentage (50%) and additional processing requirements that must be met (social, environmental, and chemical). So GRS items have a higher recycled content than RCS items.
